SNOW NEWS!

We are ready for another busy year!

Summer is over and winter has arrived in the Wildcat creek basin, so everyone can start thinking about going skiing. Put away the hiking poles/fishing rods and get your skis/skins/beacons out from the basement. October has seen lots of snow falling in the Rockies with warm temps between weather systems setting up a very nice base for the coming season. There was 60cm of snow at the lodge during Halloween which is on par with last years near record snowfall winter. November has not disappointed either over 100 cm to date and still falling!

For those wanting to keep track of the winter weather and snow at Mistaya, you can do so by going to a new web site that is being sponsored by Golden and area backcountry lodges. This site can be found at, www.wisegoat.ca click on Mistaya and you'll be able to see weather and snow info for the last 7 days.

You can expect to see Jenn and Kim both back at the lodge this winter, cooking up a storm and getting out to enjoy some fresh tracks. Dave and Ginny will be joined in the guiding department by Keith Libech, Ian Kirchner, Merrie Beth Board, Russ Lybarger and a recruit from down under (NZ) Nobu Nakashima. Nobu will be back for another Canadian winter with us, he is equally at home on the slopes as he is standing in front of the sink washing dishes. Cindy and Kay will again be greeting everyone at the hanger in town seeing that everything is loaded on the helicopter in a timely and efficient manner. Dave and Cindy's parents will again be at the hanger helping out on exchange days this winter. They are in charge of looking after our daughter Sara and helping out with all the chores that need to be done on flight days.

Family Holidays

Looking for somewhere to take the family this winter on a vacation or family gathering? We can host your vacation at Mistaya, with space for up to 14 people. Kids most welcome on these adventures. There are a number of weeks, or half weeks open to family trips. Enjoy skiing, snowshoeing and tobogganing right out the front door of the lodge. We can even be here to do the cooking and dishes for you.

Gift Certificates

The holiday season is near. Let friends and family know Mistaya Gift Certificates are just a phone call away!
